

Arvind Malhotra is the Executive Vice President of Sales for IT Solutions at ACS Solutions. He has over 30 years of experience in successfully driving and growing solutions in IT and related services.

Arvind's experience includes running large segments of business for companies like Tech Mahindra, Covansys and Rolta. Prior to joining ACS Solutions, Arvind was a Senior Vice President at Tech Mahindra and responsible for a portfolio that included verticals like Energy and Utilities, Public Sector; along with responsibility for the Latin America region. He was an executive sponsor for one of the largest accounts in Tech Mahindra and the account doubled its size under his leadership and tenure. He has been instrumental in building large business segments that have scaled in size by leveraging repeatable solutions.

Arvind has an MBA from the University of Michigan and a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Mumbai. He is based in Atlanta and very active in the technology and social community. He has been involved with Techbridge, Inspire CIO, WSJ CEO forum and several other organizations.