

S. V. “Krish” Krishnan is the Chief Delivery Officer at ACS Solutions. In his role, he directs the delivery of technology services to all clients from our delivery centers across the globe. He is responsible for building and nurturing a highly-skilled talent pool and ensuring that our commitments to customers are delivered in a consistent manner with an unwavering focus on quality

Krish is a distinguished Global Operations Executive with a career that spans building and managing technology service delivery (onshore/offshore) organizations, including consulting with Fortune 500 clients and fostering long-term relationships across C-level and Board levels. Krish’s experience of 4 decades includes working with global IT & ITES organizations in the USA, England, Scotland, Malaysia, Singapore, and India, over a diverse range of industry segments, including Healthcare, Retail, Insurance and Banking.

Until recently, he was the Chief Operating Officer (COO) at Omega Healthcare Management Services, which is the largest Business Process Management services firm for Revenue Cycle Management (RCM) segment in the Healthcare industry. Earlier, as COO of Software Paradigms International (- now Cognizant), Krish served on the company’s Executive Council and was responsible for directing the global delivery of IT services for SPI’s clients, with teams in the USA, Australia, Singapore, India, and Nepal.

Krish’s earlier experience includes leadership positions in business development, delivery, and human capital management in global Technology services organizations – CapGemini, Keane (now NTT Data), Satyam Computer Services (TechMahindra), Covansys (now DXC), Far East Computers, and TCS.

Krish obtained his MBA from the University of Delhi and his Bachelor’s in Electrical Engineering from the National Institute of Technology, Warangal. After nearly 20 years with Michigan as his base, Krish is happy to call Atlanta his home since 2013.